

SIIB Guest Lecture on 17th August, 2022 by Mr. Sandesh Banger

SIIB Guest Lecture by Mr. Sandesh Banger

Attendees: Batch 2021-23 (Finance)

Room 302, SIIB Academic Block | 17th August | 2:00-5:00 PM | Participants – 40+

On 17th August, 2022, the students of MBA –IB (Batch of 2021-2023, Finance) attended the guest lecture by Mr. Sandesh Banger. The speaker initiated the discussion by introducing the topic, Mergers and Acquisition. After that, he explained the basics of Valuation like book value, market value, liquidation value, fair value, and intrinsic value. The participants got valuable insights into different types of Valuation.

Mr. Banger continued to speak about the valuation of Zomato, and how different models can be justified in Start-up scenarios, and various roles in consulting which require this proficiency. The other valuation methods used in the market, such as Asset Bank Valuation, Income-based Valuation, and Market-based Valuation, were also explained to him. Mr. Banger emphasized the fact that the Asset-based Valuation method is now obsolete. Next, he mentioned the accounting equation and how it is relevant to the concept of Valuation.

Further, the problems about loan value were explained by Mr. Banger to the students, and the workshop ended with solving exercises on Mergers and Acquisitions for discounted cash flow model, comparable Analysis and precedent statements analysis. The students of Finance, Batch 2021-23, found the session to be highly informative and engaging.

Feedback:

1) "The workshop was fascinating, which gave us real-life insights into the topic of Mergers and Acquisition, Valuation and its types."

-Aditya Purohit, International Business, Batch 2021-2023

2) "The concepts taught were amazing and clear. We got an idea of how companies are valued on a real-time basis, that included some challenging start-ups Valuation as well."

-Anisheel Kashyap, International Business, Batch 2021-2023